

GROVE KENNEDY.

The Evening News of this city seems to be under the impression that the Governor of the Commonwealth is a Sheriff and the Adjutant General a kind of Deputy Constable, and both should go about the State making arrests whenever and wherever the actual Sheriffs are too lazy or cowardly to perform their duties. Our contemporary does not seem to be aware that the State authority has been exercised in the case of Grove Kennedy; so, for the benefit of that journal and those of its readers who have been misled by its statements, we will recall the facts. When Grove Kennedy killed his uncle last spring, in Garrard county, he was arrested and placed in jail, and was indicted for murder. The Circuit Judge of that district, Hon. M. H. Owsley, being a witness to the killing, declined to sit in the trial of the case. No attorney at that bar could be obtained to act as special judge, and these circumstances being duly certified by the Circuit Clerk, Governor McCreary commissioned Judge Wickliffe, of an adjoining district, as special judge to try the case. Before the day fixed for his trial Kennedy was brought from jail to the court-house under a writ of habeas corpus. An order of that inquiry was remanded to jail by the court and denied bail. On his way back to the jail he escaped from the Sheriff. On application of Judge Wickliffe and the County Judge of Garrard, Governor McCreary offered a reward of five hundred dollars, the highest reward authorized by law, for the apprehension of the escaped prisoner. It was subsequently communicated to the Governor that Kennedy was in Lincoln county. Thereupon Governor McCreary notified the Sheriff of Lincoln that the reward had been offered; that it was his, the Sheriff's duty to arrest the fugitive, and that if the civil authority was not sufficient, after a full exertion of its powers, to make the arrest, or to arrest any violator of the law, a sufficient force of the State militia would be furnished to maintain the constituted authorities. It is the business of the Sheriff of Lincoln county to arrest Kennedy if found in that county. But it does not appear that the Sheriff or any other peace officer or citizen of Lincoln has made any effort whatever to arrest him. In fact, the people of Lincoln county seem to think that the sensation of Mr. Grove Kennedy's presence at their famous watering place adds so much to the attractions of Crab Orchard Springs that he ought to be let alone. His capture is worth only five hundred dollars. As a card for Crab Orchard, and indirectly Lincoln county, he seems to be worth much more. The direct responsibility for this disgraceful exhibition of defiance of law rests, of course, upon the Sheriff of Lincoln county. But no official would dare to be so regardless of the duties of office if he thought that thereby he would incur public odium, so the responsibility spreads itself out over the people of Lincoln, and the invitation goes out from Crab Orchard Springs that not only are the invalid and weary welcome, but the comforts of a first-class home are extended to fugitives from justice. The suggestion of the Evening News that Governor McCreary should at once send a small army under his Adjutant General to lay siege to Grove Kennedy's retreat loses sight of the important fact that military force may be employed only after the civil authority has exhausted its power. There is nothing yet to show that the Sheriff of Lincoln might not make the arrest single-handed. There is certainly no reason to suppose that the Sheriff with a posse of citizens might not make the arrest. If troops were sent to Lincoln they would have to be placed under the orders of a civil peace officer, and as the civil peace officer will not attempt the arrest, or summon a posse to make it, there is room to doubt their disturbing the tranquility of Mr. Kennedy by the very active employment of the military. The case just happens to be one in which the public sentiment of the locality to which the fugitive confides himself is in his favor. It is absurd to suppose that there is not a man in Lincoln county, with the incentive of five hundred dollars for his trouble, who dare arrest Grove Kennedy. If that is the present situation of Lincoln, her youths have gone West, leaving behind only the decrepit and the impotent to maintain the majesty of law and the public decency.

We copy the above from the Courier-Journal and in the main endorse it. But the statement that the citizens of Lincoln are in favor of the open defiance of the law by Mr. Kennedy, is a libel on the good name of a county, the majority of whose citizens are as law-abiding and honorable as any in the State. There is not one of her citizens, outside of Mr. Kennedy's circle of friends but what would be glad to see him brought to justice, and if summoned to form a posse to arrest him would go without hesitation, not from any malice toward him, for he is a good, clever fellow, but for the vindication of law and order. Theron, as we have on sundry occasions had to remark, lies entirely with our officers. They are afraid of their own shadows and the sooner they resign to make room for competent men the better for the good name of the county. Mr. Kennedy's home is in the edge of Garrard, where he stays, no doubt more than he does at Crab Orchard, and the Sheriff never there, who was so distressed because he let him get loose, might also put in some valuable time in apprehending him, but like ours, he believes that a Sheriff has no other duties than to collect taxes and do other little duties which will bring no danger to him or cause him to hurt the tender feelings of a violator of the law.

WAR NOTES.—A dispatch dated Erzeroum, Saturday, says: The Russians advanced on Kurkumra and Wenzukay on Friday, but were compelled to retreat after five hours' engagement, during which some of their ammunition cases were exploded by Turkish shells. A dispatch from Constantinople says a telegram was received there that the Russians lost four thousand killed and wounded in this affair. Shumla, Aug. 28.—Yesterday Suleiman Pasha made an assault on the Russian position in Schipka Pass at nine o'clock in the morning. The battle, which was sanguinary, lasted till six in the evening. The enemy, who were assembled on both flanks, were unable to resist the attack, and the Turks gained possession of all the earthworks at the opening of the defile. London, Aug. 28.—A telegram to the Times from Shumla, says Suleiman Pasha captured nearly all the Russian positions. The Russians lost 3,000 killed and wounded. The Standard's dispatch from Shumla says it is reported that the Russians have abandoned their works and that Suleiman Pasha is pursuing them.

It is understood at Washington that Chief Justice Critter will refuse to honor a requisition by Governor Hampton for Republicans now residing there, but formerly of South Carolina, on the grounds that he does not consider Hampton the de jure Governor of the State. Old Critter had better not go to South Carolina and tell the people there that Hampton is not their Governor. If he don't get one of those 's knocked out of his name we are no judge of human nature.

THEY have a novel way of working on the moonshiners in Tennessee. The U. S. Marshals don't go around with blood hounds hunting them up, but the citizens give a big barbecue, invite all of the moonshiners to attend and then with Temperance lecturers and others, work on their minds to such an extent that they agree to deliver up their stills and gave bail for their appearance at the next term of the United States Court.

THE telegraph announces the capture in Pensacola, Florida, of the Texas outlaw, John Wesley Hardin, who it is asserted, has committed 27 murders. The expense of a trial should not be inflicted on the Lone Star State, but Mr. Hardin, who has departed so far from the teachings of the illustrious man for whom he was named, should be consigned to the tender mercies of Judge Lynch's Court.

THE heirs of some departed one of Revolutionary days have instituted suit for 119,000 acres of land in West Virginia and Kentucky, and including the site of the city of Lexington. It is now feared that some survivor of father Adams' family may discover ancient documents on which he will base a claim for the entire globe.

THE Sheriff of Carroll, his deputy, the ex-Sheriff and two other men are held without bail for the murder of Miss Carrie Anderson. The fact that officers of the law were engaged in such hellish business, should influence the juries to mete out to the prisoners the severest penalty known to the law—hanging by the neck until dead, dead, dead.

A SEVERE storm blew down two spans of the Union Pacific Railroad bridge over the Missouri River at Omaha. The other nine spans were left standing, but some of them are so twisted out of position that it will take several months to repair the damage, which is estimated at three hundred and fifty thousand dollars.

THESE Utah divorcees won't hold water. Mrs. Sarah A. Davis, of Campbell county, tried it and found no trouble in getting the divorce, but when she married another man she was arrested for bigamy, and on the case being tried this week, was sent to the penitentiary for three years.

THE Knights Templar are having a high old time at Cleveland, Ohio. They are banqueted and danced to their hearts content, and bands of music lull them to sleep in sweet serenade. About 8,000 Knights marched in line on Wednesday.

BROHAM YOUNG is about to leave his many wives sorrowing widows. He is at the point of death and will soon go the way of all flesh.

LATER.—Mr. Young has gone, and with him, let us hope, Mormonism.

A TERRIBLE railroad accident has just happened near Des Moines, Iowa. A train of cars was dished into a creek, killing 20 or 30 persons and wounding as many more. A freshet in the creek had weakened the bridge, which gave way while the train was on it.

BEN DILLON, one of the oldest and at one time in his life the best Actor in the United States, died at St. Louis, Tuesday.

From our Louisville correspondent.

Your correspondent at this point, being an Irishman, is not here, consequently he is compelled to apologize for writing a letter which he can't write. Perhaps then he had better write from where he is. First, then, he has found great pleasure during the last few days in attending the religious services conducted by Mr. Barnes in Stanford. There is a strange interest thrown around these meetings—strange because of its wide extension, its absorbing character, its long continuance, and its immediate results.

The Common School system is just now a subject of interest, inasmuch as it is the season for holding "Teachers' Institutes" in the different counties. The idea of a system of free schools was undoubtedly a charitable one. Its overlooking, however, in the country generally, is not satisfactory. The grand result is that the teacher is a slave poorly paid, cruelly mistreated, and slightly respected. The pupils, however, the insufficiency of the fund, and the parsimony of the parents, can obtain only a spasmodic training, changing teachers, and books, and modes of procedure continually, often in the hands of incompetent instructors, and often uncertain about the continuance of even that meager privilege.

If the people could be induced to consider the fund an auxiliary, and supplement it in a liberal spirit, the whole matter would be greatly improved.

ROCKCASTLE COUNTY NEWS.

What has become of the Sunday School?

The Good Templars meet once a quarter to elect officers.

Why don't the Mountain Echo suggest Everette for Speaker of the General Assembly?

H. H. Brinkley, Esq., of Pulaski, was in town yesterday.

M. F. Brinkley has a splendid line of dress-goods, bought especially for the present sale in prices.

I. A. Stewart will attend the Law School of Kentucky University during the next session.

Any thing you wish to buy can be bought at bottom prices at M. F. Brinkley's cheap cash store.

C. Brooke has been appointed post-master at Pine Hill, near L. S. Jones, resigned.

Judging from present appearances the docket of our September Circuit Court will be unusually light.

There is no abatement of that fever—a deputy Sheriff of this county will stick his head into the matrimonial noose shortly.

M. F. Brinkley offers the public at a low figure, something new, useful and artistic. We allude to the "Champion" Ax, manufactured by him. Call, every body, and see it.

Elders Collier and Terrell have concluded their labors at Brodhead. The meeting was a glorious revival, resulting in 22 additions to the church, 12 of which were by confession.

M. F. Brinkley has the fullest and best selected stock of general merchandise ever brought to Mt. Vernon, consisting of dry goods, groceries, hats, caps, boots, shoes, clothing, linens, &c. His prices are astonishingly low.

The horrible killing of Walter Saunders, at Richmond, is regretted by a number of persons here. Saunders, whatever his desperate qualities, certainly possessed many good traits. He had several warm friends at this place.

Would you believe it? There is but one Church at this place, and that is, and has for months, been without a pastor. Whether preachers are too scarce, or their prices too stiff, we can't say. Let us have a preacher any way.

The recent session of the Baptist Association at Freedom Church in this county was quite an interesting one. Many visiting ministers were present. Every thing passed off smoothly. The crowd in attendance last Sunday is estimated at 1,500.

Wm. Gregg was arrested in Pulaski county last week, charged with horse stealing. He gave bond for his appearance here at the examining trial on yesterday. When the case was called, it was continued at the instance in the Commonwealth, certain of whose witnesses were absent, until next Wednesday.

Last Wednesday night, the doors of our jail were opened in some mysterious manner, and two prisoners made their escape. This is the second time within six months that the doors have been unlocked at night by parties unknown, and the inmates set at liberty. We have heard that there are duplicate keys in existence. The matter should be investigated, the locks changed, or the jail warden held in killing wood.

Those men who are so industriously circulating reports throughout the county, to the effect that the company of State Guards which is forming here, is a band of Democrats and Ku Klux, organized as such, are either brain fools or they are intentionally trying to stir up strife and mischief. The State Guards will be used only to assist the civil officers in suppressing crime and lawlessness. Any body with half sense knows that.

The Kentucky members of the National Executive Committee of the Grange have a circular letter congratulating the party throughout the country, and especially here in Kentucky, at the numerous accessions which have been made to its ranks, as indicated by the increased vote which our Grange received in August over that cast in November for Granger. Well, the few votes which Tribune received in this county were not principally by Radicals, and so long as the Grange party strengthens by desertions from the Radical fold, we don't care a continental damn, do you?

The house of Hon. Milton J. Cook, at Pleasant Valley, was totally destroyed by fire on the night of the 29th inst. A part of the furniture was saved. As to the loss of the case in such unfortunate occurrences, the cause of the conflagration was a defective fire. In addition to the house and furniture, Mr. Cook's private papers, consisting of valuable notes and accounts were burned. The total loss cannot be estimated, but it can hardly be less than $3,000. There was no insurance.

By the time this is in print, we shall have annexed "ourselves" with a sledge-hammer and gone to knocking the fire out of some of those beautiful flimsy lies with which our State road is paved. This State road business is a humbug. Every fellow must walk six days in the year on less he belongs to that fortunate class who are unable to furnish substitutes. And yet the road from here to Crab Orchard is so wickedly and inexpensively rough that we defy the most meek and saintly ministers, in whose thick-like procedure crime ever blushed and hid its face, to ride over it one trip without giving vent to his brained feelings in the utterance of such "cuss words" as would shock the organs of hearing of the most degraded set of bar-room bullies that ever sought the bottom of a drinking cup.

QUITO.

GARRARD COUNTY NEWS.

Atwood 29, 1877.

The intensely hot weather of the last few days causes a general cessation of enthusiasm upon all subjects. The atmosphere is heavy with dust, the grass parched till dairy maids grow desperate for one more supply of rich milk, and many citizens about town are no longer worth a trial of the sounding lead.

In the midst of the Circuit Court session, County Court came in with an unusually numerous supply of cattle, hogs and sheep. We have no report of the day's doings, beyond the general appearance of activity lent by the crowd in attendance.

On Monday evening the protracted meeting at the Christian Church closed with 13 additions; seven by profession of faith, the others by letter. Elder Wilds made an agreeable impression in our community, both socially and in his ministerial capacity. In his farewell address he commended the brethren for their united and cordial support, and for the universal harmony that characterized the church. During the services from day to day there was the usual social intermingling that prevails at such seasons, and the usual fine dinners spread for preachers and laymen.

Certainly if every knee does not bow at the name of Jesus it will not be for lack of opportunity. The spirit of evangelism is abroad over the land, and from numerous sanctuaries send the prayer of the faithful for a revival of the Spirit's work. General Hano was in town on Sunday, having concluded a meeting at Cave Run with about 25 additions. He now proceeds to conduct a series of services at Fairview, in this county. The Rev. J. Lapsley McKee, D. D., is drawing crowds of listeners at the Point Lick Presbyterian Church. There have been several additions thus far. Every afternoon as sunset approaches vehicles containing citizens of this place may be seen wending their way towards Point Lick or Stanford, to hear the old, old story from eloquent lips. The Rev. George D. Barnes has been petitioned to come here and electrify the lukewarm Christians of the various denominations.

On Sunday morning Elder Wilds preached a sermon at the Christian Church upon the duty of giving to the Lord according as He hath prospered us, and then proceeded to call upon the congregation for the necessary means to lift the debt of twelve hundred dollars resting against the building, and also to furnish new pews. It may be remembered that some months ago when this house was reconstructed the building committee became involved in some sort of snarl with the architect, and before the matter could be amicably compromised, the funds were exhausted, and the house still unfinished. The Aid Society, composed of ladies, have constantly reduced the church debt by small pittances, but have not entirely removed the financial incubus. The result of Sunday's contribution was a sum upwards of seventeen hundred dollars, to be paid now or in five months' time, at the option of the givers. Whatever criticism might have been elicited by undertaking such an enterprise on the Lord's day, was swallowed up in the brilliant success of the experiment.

At a meeting of the Presbyterian church congregation on Saturday afternoon, the site of their future house of worship was located on Danville street, at what is known as the Preachick lot, lying just above Franklin Institute.

Circus bills are posted all about the city. Mrs. Vaughan, of Lebanon, is the guest of Mrs. C. W. Sweeney.

Mr. Wm. Hardell and Mr. Ike Dunn have wended their way to the Lone Star State.

Mr. Owen Rigney and Mr. J. P. Sandifer and wife have gone to the Knight Templars Banquet at Cleveland, Ohio.

Prof. George W. Dunlap arrived on Monday with his family, after a most delightful sojourn in Chicago, the great Western metropolis.

A natural feeling of excited interest was prevalent throughout our community when Tuesday's morning train brought down the lifeless remains of Walter Saunders and T. Ballard, of Crab Orchard, said citizens having met their death at the hands of the Richmond Police on Monday night. Quite a history attaches to the tragedy, but we give the affair only a passing notice. If the sadly-bellied citizens of Lancaster have any cause for rejoicing in the matter, it is that some other theatre than this was chosen for the dreadful occurrences, and that we are spared the odium of another murder case. All lovers of humanity must sympathize with the friends of the unfortunate men thus hurried into eternity.

On Tuesday evening the train jumped the track near Griffiths' Creek Station, and did not arrive at this depot till 7 o'clock.

There have been questions and cases of interest argued during the present term of Court, but again is our letter too long to admit of minute that is of so local a nature. In addition to which, our report of legal proceedings is, of necessity, second-hand. Could some filly transform us into the Argus-eyed spicer, or invest us with the invisible cap, we might traverse the walls of the forum, or mount the rostrum to see and hear in propria persona.

Some of your readers may be interested in the following extract from a private letter, signed J. J. Jennings, Granada, Miss: "I can beyond the shadow of a doubt give the entire line of genealogy so far as my branch of the family is concerned, not only to William, the emigrant, but even as far back as 1602 in English ancestry. From William the emigrant back to 1602, I am indebted to a pointed pedigree of English nobility and authority; and from William, the emigrant, down to the present day we have the land deeds, wills, marriage certificates, &c. In order to be successful it is only necessary to trace to Wm. Jennings who emigrated to the United States and inherited this estate. If I can lend aid in tracing the tharard branch, send me your lineage as far back as you can trace with certainty, and perhaps I can complete it." It has been suggested that the heirs in this section to the immense estate still unclaimed unite in securing the publication of such facts as were collected twenty years ago by Mr. M. Sloan, of Nashville, Tenn, now an old man.

AS attempt at burglary was made on the Drug Store of Bolton & Stagg some nights ago, but the designs of the scamp were frustrated by Messrs. S. P. Stagg and J. W. McAlister, who sleep next door and were awakened by the noise. Suspicion rests on a negro that is well known before our courts, but as no damage had been done, he was not arrested.

MARRIAGES.—The following marriage licenses were issued this week: J. H. Anderson, Esq., to Miss Mary Belle Coleman. The bride is of the tender age of 15. Mr. Granville M. Chappell to Miss Sallie Harris; Mr. John W. Moore to Miss Sarah Elizabeth Hunsford, and the last but by no means the least in age, Mr. John Hugh to Mrs. Mary Pulliam. The snows of 19 winters have whitened the locks of the groom in the latter case, while 45 years are beginning to show on the beauty of the fair bride.

The rage for Outwore Dress fads is unabated. Passing by the Trials Palace of John H. Craig, on Wednesday last, we were invited in by the genial proprietor, and asked to examine a large case of these fashionable goods, which was then being opened. Mr. Craig, (who by the way is recognized as one of the best and most tasteful merchants in the State), told us that this article of ladies wearing apparel would "lead" all others during the Fall and Winter. He has patterns at all prices, and, having purchased them directly from New York Importers, for cash, he is enabled to sell them at extremely low figures.

Our young friend, J. Owsley Dunn, for a long time the popular salesman of Hayden Bros., has severed his connection with that House to take a like position in the new house of J. H. Arnold & Co., wholesale and retail dry goods, Richmond. We regret to lose Mr. Dunn, as he is a young gentleman of better social worth, but the promise of a better salary, and the prospect of a partnership in the business as soon as it gets on a firm basis induced him to leave the house of his friends. He has a peculiar faculty for ingratiating himself into the friendship of others, and it won't be long till he has as many friends in Richmond as he has in

The time of the arrival of the morning passenger train has been changed from 9:35 to 9:15.

A DELICIOUS rain fell on Wednesday evening, giving a new appearance to the crops and causing the hearts of the farmers to dance with glee.

It is rather early in the season to begin the Fall trade, but we observe that Hayden Bros. have already a big run of custom. So much for energy and energy.

MISS ANNIE L. FISHER, the accomplished Milliner who has been engaged by Mr. John H. Craig, to take charge of his Millinery Department, will arrive next week and begin work.

SEVEN all the pretty school teachers that are assembled this week, remind us of the statement that when a young lady gets to be a school marm, she loses 9 out of 10 chances to marry. But we can't see why this should be, when it is also stated that when they do marry, teachers make the best of wives.

ACCIDENT.—Friday night last as Mr. Gale Walters was driving up to church in a spring wagon, his horse made a jerk, which threw his sister, Miss Sallie, who was sitting in a chair in the wagon, to the ground, striking her head against the gate-post, and cutting a painful gash in the back part of her head. She was taken across the street to Mr. Stephenson's, and every attention rendered her, and the next day was able to return to her home.

IRVING DUTYMAN, JNO. C. COOPER, formerly of this place, but now of Shelbyville, Ky., was here this week on a visit to his friends. He is much pleased with his new home, and speaks in high terms of the people of Shelby county. Mr. Cooper is a very successful worker in the Order of Knights of Honor, and since his installation into the office of Grand Dictator in May last, has organized seventeen new Lodges, and hopes before the close of the year to increase the number to forty. He has done twice as much already as any of his predecessors did during their whole term of office.

MARRIED IN THE CLERK'S OFFICE.—Yesterday a couple from the classic retreat known as Berea, came to town, bent on having their destinies joined for better or for worse, and proceeded immediately to the Clerk's Office, where, after a good deal of questioning and a number of other administered they procured the necessary legal document. Then they wanted somebody authorized to tie the knot, so the Rev. J. A. Bogie, who was handy, was pressed into service, and in a few minutes Mr. W. J. Cummins and Miss Adelle Cummins were one happy flesh. It is supposed that the couple are sensible and that there was some reason for the marriage, but the gentlemen having declared that there was none, and the young lady having sworn that she was 21 years of age, the fun was allowed to proceed.

Out of the 55 teachers in this county, all are in attendance at the Institute, except five. The following are the names of those in attendance: M. B. Hughes, J. W. Hall, J. Q. Montgomery, W. H. King, W. R. Wade, W. F. McGary, Miss Allie Hale, Miss Bettie G. Lyon, Miss Mary Kay, Rev. J. A. Bogie, H. J. Harmon, Miss Elias Garvin, H. A. Lee, Miss Mary J. Newland, Aaron Hogg, Miss Maggie Newland, Miss Allie P. Rose, Wm. D. Dye, Miss Annie W. Logan, Wm. M. Riddison, J. C. Sander, E. C. Caley, Miss M. D. Lewis, C. A. Smith, R. D. Padgett, O. D. Ballard, Rev. J. M. Cook, A. H. Basile, M. R. McMullen, John M. Tucker, Miss Mary Gormley, A. J. Acton, J. M. Jennings, Mrs. Orah Pleasant, J. C. Gorman, J. H. Crockett, Sam'l Ayers, Miss Fannie Padgett, Miss Sallie A. Strong, J. R. Jennings, Miss Dovie Atkinson, Mrs. Amanda Rigney, D. Coleman, E. B. Gook, Miss Mollie B. Padgett, Chas. M. Phillips, Miss Maggie Haecker, Mrs. Alice F. Helm, Miss Bettie Thurmond, W. P. Haines, J. B. Wallis. Of the visiting teachers we were glad to meet Prof. A. W. Melli, of the Glasgow Normal School, and Prof. W. P. Grinstead, of Parkville.

A TERRIBLE TRAGEDY.—WALTER SAUNDERS AND TUCK BALLARD SHOT AND KILLED AT RICHMOND.—Intelligence of the killing of Mr. Walter G. Saunders and T. Ballard reached here by telegraph on Tuesday morning, and shortly thereafter nearly every man in town had gathered at the depot to learn the particulars of the tragedy. The crowd was not long held in suspense, for in short time the train arrived, bearing the lifeless remains of the unfortunate men, and one or two witnesses to the bloody deed. The particulars, so far as we have been able to get them are, that Mr. Saunders, Mr. Ballard, Wm. Kennedy and John Ballard went up to Richmond Monday evening to attend the trial of George Saunders, which was to have taken place the next day. It was understood that an ill feeling was held by the Saunders party against Edwards, the Town Marshal, for knocking down young Saunders with a club in making his arrest. This caused Edwards to be on the look out for trouble, so he armed a couple of his brothers-in-law, and a couple of his henchmen, and at midnight at night Mr. Walter Saunders came up to Edwards, who was standing at the Garnett House, and taking him by the arm, told him he wanted to have a little talk with him. Edwards demanded to be let loose, and immediately drew a pistol and fired at Saunders, without effect further than to blind Saunders by the flash, who also fired, doing as damage. Edwards or one of his brothers then fired, the ball taking effect in Saunders' head, and killing him instantly. The firing was then kept up between Wm. Kennedy and the Edwards, and Tuck Ballard, until the latter coming on the scene, was shot through the heart, the ball entering his back and lodging under the skin on his breast. After the bloody fray two of the Edwards were found to be wounded, one severely in the spine, and Wm. Kennedy, who made his escape, is said to have been badly wounded, both in his arm and leg. The Edwards were arrested, and on their examining trial were acquitted. The Old Fellow took charge of the bodies of the dead men here, and conveyed them to Crab Orchard, the house of the deceased, where an appropriate funeral service was held by Rev. J. L. Barnes, they were laid away in widely remote places. Mr. Saunders was long known, and although possessed of faults, (and who is not?) he had many worthy and admirable traits of character, which made him many lasting friends. Our sincerest sympathies are with the grief-stricken widow, doubly bereaved by the tragic death of husband and brother, but human sympathy is powerless here. To him whose care is promised to the widow and fatherless, it is not long till he has as many friends in Richmond as he has in

WEAVER & EVANS have sold over two thousand fruit jars this season, and are still receiving and selling them daily.

We understand that it was developed at the examining trial of the Edwards that Walter Saunders neither drew his pistol nor fired a shot.

The like of which was never before heard of in Stanford, a whole car load of two horse wagons received at one time by Weaver & Evans, direct from a Wisconsin Manufacturer. A good two horse wagon with back and brake for $70.

For the past several days the sidewalk below our office has been almost entirely blocked with goods boxes, as our business friends, Hayden Bros., have been receiving and opening a fine line of goods, in great variety, all of which they sell at reasonably low figures. The salesmen in their store are polite and attentive to all who call upon them.

MR. WALTER SAUNDERS will be greatly missed by the people of this county. He was a man of indomitable courage, and while Sheriff and since the expiration of his office, whenever his services were called for, he was a terror to evil doers. The occasional troubles into which he got, were always in support of his friends, for whom he was ever ready to die. A number of Mr. Saunders' acts during his official career will always be gratefully remembered by the people of the county he served. We write this not because it is necessary here, but for the benefit of those of our exchange who are speaking of him as a desperado, &c.

We were invited this week to examine the Millinery and Dress-Making Department of the great clothing house of John H. Craig. In the rear end of his large and commodious building, a space twenty-two feet square has been apart, and fitted up in the most artistic style for the display of Millinery goods and work, exclusively. The exhibition is a marvel of elegance and beauty, and was arranged regardless of cost. It occupies an entire side of the rear end, from floor to ceiling; is lined with black velvet and trimmed with gold molding, with French plate glass in front. The painting and gilding, executed by Mr. L. H. Pryor, a home artist, is finished in walnut and "bird's eye" maple, and gives a touch of beauty to the whole. Pier glasses, easy chairs, sofas, dressing cases, Brussels carpet, lace curtains, etc., combine to render this the most charming fashion bazaar outside of the great cities. We advise our ladies readers to call next week and inspect it. They will also find the Dress-Making Department, in the second story of Mr. Craig's fine store, equally elegant and attractive.

PERSONAL NOTES.—Mrs. W. H. Bailey, Mrs. D. B. Bowman, Miss Kate Walker, Fannie Reid, Annie Timberlake, and Messrs. Forester Reid and Hugh Reid left on Tuesday for a visit to Mammoth Cave. Miss Samsantha Logan has come to Bowling Green to take charge of a school. Sir Knight A. A. McKinney went to Cleveland to attend the meeting of the Knights Templar. Mr. John H. Shanks has returned from his projected visit to Shelby county. Miss Sophie Hucker, of Sedalia, Mo., and Miss (Gladie) Goble, of this county, were visiting the family of Dr. P. W. Logan this week. Miss Sallie Helm was a guest of Miss Jennie Hollier the earlier part of the week. Mr. J. Campbell, looking like a new man, has returned from Rockcastle Springs. Mr. H. Bruce has accepted a position as salesman in the store of Severance & Duderstadt. Mr. S. B. Matheny is again in our midst. We are glad to see him, but do not intend to make any remarks as to the cause of his visit. Miss Bettie Dennis returned last week from an excursion with a number of friends to Putnamville. She had a most delightful trip. Messrs. R. C. and Sam Harris returned from the South yesterday. Miss Flora Hays, a bright-eyed little beauty from Danville, is visiting Miss Bettie Dennis. Miss Mary Green, of Crab Orchard, is visiting Miss Bettie Pennington at Dr. R. O. Owens'. We find the following in the Elizabethtown News:

Miss Katie Williams, daughter of Rev. W. L. Williams, of Haysville, arrived in our city last Thursday accompanied by her father and little sister. She has been a very warm friend to our city. As a vocalist, she cannot be surpassed. She has a soft, sweet, melodious voice, that commands the admiration of every one. Having spent a year or more in Cincinnati under the very best instrumental and vocal instructors, and having a natural musical talent, she understands the science of music thoroughly, and is one of the best musicians in the country. Miss Williams is the principal music teacher of Haysville, Indiana. She will return home this week to resume her duties.

LAND, STOCK AND CROP ITEMS

Swamp & Allford bought of Moore & Lyons 200 acres at $1.

Horace S. Withers purchased of Swope & Allford, 20 head sheep at $1.25.

W. T. Baughman sold to Wright & Hanes, 35 good yearling cattle for $795.

Uncle Jerry Maxwell, of Tennessee, will be here Monday with 50 head of good cattle.

The promised reduction in the price of sugar, on account of the tremendous amount held by the speculators, don't pan out well, as that commodity is daily advancing 1 of a cent or so.

GOOD BUSINESS.—H. F. Adams has sold from his peach orchard this season eight hundred dollars' worth of peaches. He expects to realize from his crop at least two thousand dollars.—[Richmond Register.]

COURT DAY AT WINCHESTER.—There was a very large crowd in attendance at the County Court. About 1,200 cattle were offered for sale. The best sold at 51c. The market was dull. There were about 800 sheep sold, which brought a fair price.

The protracted drought has greatly lessened the prospect of a full corn crop in many portions of the State and it is said that in some of the Mountain counties not over half a crop will be made. Here the forward corn is out of danger and a big crop is assured without another rain.

LOUISVILLE LIVE STOCK QUOTATIONS.—Cattle.—The cattle market to-day was more active than last week, but prices ranged about the same. Extra shippers, 60c; good to fair shippers, 41c; best butcher stuff, 31c; fair to good, 21c; common, 11c. But few left over. Hogs.—Active at 41c; for best grade; common 31c; 41c. Sheep and Lambs.—Sheep—Extra sheep, heavy weights, 31c; stock sheep, 21c; 41c. Lambs—Extra, 31c; 41c; common, 21c; 31c. Good demand for good ewes. Receipts To-day—Cattle, 633; Hogs, 321; Sheep and lambs, 3,946. Total, 4,894.

From Mr. T. D. Newland, who was Clerk at the sale of the personal property of Mrs. Sallie Newland, in this county, on Wednesday, we learn the following: Corn in crib, $1.50 to $1.60 per barrel. New corn at the heap, $1.15 to $1.25. Hay $3.50 per stack. Wheat in the garner, 70 to 80c. Rye 35c. Mill corn, $1.20 to $1.25.

The last of these provoked some sharp shooting. Each man had his own theory, some of which were good—all, perhaps, of effective under favorable circumstances.

The best features of the Institute, thus far, are the selected readings, in which the ladies have appeared in especially creditable performances; and the music, which comes in like bursts of sunshine through the foggy atmosphere of dogmatical discussion.

In fact, were it not for the presence and co-operation of the gentler ones, the whole affair would be in great danger of falling into a state of irretrievable dullness.

As usual in such cases the query box has contained a great many questions; but they consist mainly of stock puzzles and catches, and add but little to the general interest—nothing in general improvement.

Judge Phillips is laboring with considerable zeal to promote the success of the enterprise; and Messrs. Melli and Grinstead deserve great credit for the manner in which they perform their respective parts.

THURSDAY MORNING.—The first question this morning was "The application of percentages." Several theories were discussed—some of them very good.

Prof. Grinstead was called home suddenly by a dispatch informing him of the sickness of his children.

The next item was an "experience meeting," during which several of the members presented reminiscences of their pedagogical histories.

After music and recess, the Institute took up the subject, "The verb and its modifications." Grammar, like medicine, is proverbially inharmonious. Here the discussion resulted something like the historic contest among the Indians of rural climates for the possession of a captive. They killed the captive.

Miss Thurmond closed the exercises of the morning, and poured oil upon the troubled waters, by reading with power and pathos "Abolition," by N. P. Willis.

RELIGIOUS.

ELDER LOUIS WILLIAMS will preach at the Christian Church in Stanford, on tomorrow night (Saturday) at the usual hour.

Next Tuesday the Annual State Meeting of the Christian Church will commence at Lexington.

Rev. Wm. Crow will fill his appointment at the Presbyterian Church here next Sunday.

A Baptist minister is in jail in California for having twice burned down his own house to get the insurance money on it.

The next session of the Kentucky Annual Conference of the Methodist Episcopal Church South will be held at Winchester, beginning September 5th.

Rev. N. R. Johnson writes us that he recently called a meeting of two weeks at Muldraugh's Hall, during which his labors were blessed with 26 additions to the Church.

Twenty persons were baptized by Elder W. L. Williams, at Haughton Fork Bridge, last Sunday, who had been brought to a knowledge of the saving power of the religion of our Savior by the labors of Mr. Barnes.

The prayers of Rev. George O. Barnes were answered, the hearts of members of the Presbyterian Church were softened and the familiar ring of his voice is again heard in the "Word of Life." This Church being much larger than any other in town, many more persons are enabled to hear the Word that Mr. Barnes so fully and forcibly explains, but even now seats are only obtained by those who go early. The confessions number over 180.

Rev. F. G. Baugher, Agent for the Kentucky Infirmary for Women and Children, one of the most deserving charitable institutions in the State, was here this week soliciting subscriptions for its benefit. We are glad that he met with fair success, but if the people were aware of the great good the Institution is doing and is intended to do, their purse strings would loosen with much greater ease. Nineteen hundred and three women and children, too poor to get medical attention, were treated in the Infirmary during the year closing June last, and over 2,000 prescriptions were gratuitously filled in the drug room for outside parties.

head, 6-year old work mule, $80; broad mares from $12.50 to $65; Sheep, $3.45; Lambs, $2.75; Hogs, $3 per cwt.; one yoke steers, $31; 21 shares in Crab Orchard and Stanford Turnpike, $1.60; 7 shares in Land and Crab Orchard Pike, $4. House, build and Kitchen Furniture, &c., brought big prices. Crowd in attendance very large.

Stanford Female College.

Editor Interior Journal:

Dear Sir—In visiting your pleasant town during two months that I have been spending in Kentucky, no interest that you have in your midst appeared to me to be of more vital importance, and none calculated to do more to elevate the character of the community than the Stanford Female College.

The advantage of an educational centre like this, to a community cannot be estimated in dollars and cents, and its influence in moulding the character of the young and in creating aspirations after the noble, the true and the beautiful, is to be appreciated only when the records of eternity are unfolded and the value of all human effort made known. This power is not due to the beautiful grounds and building that grace your town, though these are important factors, but more than all, to the cultured and elegant woman who stands at the head of the Faculty as its worthy president, and to the able Faculty, that, in her wise and penetrating judgment she has called about her.

Please do not consider me engaged in bandying life compliments at the expense of high-sounding adjectives, when I give it as my opinion, after a careful examination into the methods and plans that are pursued at the College, that there is not an institution in your State where there is less of empty show and parade, or where promotion depends more upon solid attainments and thorough scholarship. Nor is there a school anywhere in the whole land to which we would more hesitatingly commit the educational and moral interests of our daughters than to the Stanford Female College as under the management and control of Mrs. Sallie C. Truheart, A. M.

Only those who have made inquiry, or who have had a similar experience, know the burden of care and responsibility that rest upon her shoulders, how well she has sustained the one and fulfilled the other, the record of her career at Stanford fully attests.

And yet an inquiry into the financial condition of the school revealed a fact that ought not to exist; a debt of $4,000 to $5,000 rests upon the property. Citizens of Stanford, this ought not to be! Irrespective of party or denominational lines this amount of money ought to be raised within a week and the debt cancelled. The amount that is expended annually to meet accruing interest could then be returned to the advantage of the school. Apparatus is needed, school furniture is needed, and such appointments as library books, books of reference, &c., all of which are indispensable, and without which the energies of a Faculty are cramped and their efforts impaired.

Mr. Truheart will be found, I am sure, with her interest in her work, ready to do her full share in this enterprise; how much she has already done, a few lines, the vast majority are not aware. Let there be too, a unanimity of support in reference to the school, let it receive a generous patronage from the entire community, let a sympathy be kept ever alive for its progress, and the prosperous path that it has enjoyed will be but an earnest of the glorious future that you will see realized.

HOME AFFAIRS.

Securance & Dunderberg.

We are glad to be able to announce that we have secured the services of Mr. George H. Bruce, as salesman, who will be glad to see his friends.

We have just received the handsome stock of Buchings to be found any where. Cheap Buching at 25 and 50 cents per dozen.

Great Buck, Kid, Dog and Peterham Goggles and Umbrellas, at all prices.

Black dotted Veiling.

Brown, Sea Island and Bleached Cottons. Our stock has just been replenished with all the staple and desirable brands.

Thirty new pieces prices in medium dark shade, for early Fall wear, opened this morning.

Boots.—A few cases of Calf, P. Calf and Kid Boots for the early Fall trade just opened.

Ladies and Misses Shoes.—We opened yesterday, 17 dozen Ladies and Misses side and front lace Kid and Pebble Grain Shoes from the celebrated factory of R. L. Stevens & Co. Every pair warranted to give satisfaction both in the fit and wear.

Ladies' fine French Kid Shoes specialty.

In addition to the large stock of Jeans, Yarns, &c., we have received from New York, a large stock of flannels, consisting in part of red and grey ticks, plain white, grey and red—opera, Shaker in yard wide goods. These goods were bought early in July, before the advance in wool effected the prices.

To the Ladies.—We would especially ask them to examine our new and complete assortment of Glass, China and Queensware, in which they will find a more complete stock than elsewhere and at prices to please.

We will receive this week forty pieces Jeans, and while wool has advanced 25 to 50 per cent, by buying early we are enabled to offer the trade, Janes at the same price as last Fall.

We keep all grades, but make a specialty of very fine Merino wool jeans.

Just received another large lot of trunks and valises, and we are still selling them for less than you can buy them in Louisville at retail.

PATTERNS.—We have been appointed agents for Mrs. Demore's patterns for Ladies and Children—they are acknowledged by all to be the most reliable patterns offered for sale. We have now nearly three hundred different kinds, all accurately cut, graded in size, marked to show how they go together, and put up in illustrated envelopes with full directions for making, amount of material required, &c.

We have sent out a large number of catalogues showing style of patterns and price. Should you want any pattern in the catalogue enclose price and if we have not the pattern in stock we will order immediately.
